West Point Cadets. BUILDING A TRESSEL BRIDGE IN SHORT WETER

Building a Trasser, Bridge is short wright. At two o'clock in the alternoon, the crowds of victors who had during the 'day been scattered overthe place, were to be seem' bending their steps down the hill west of Roc's Hord, to 'the shore of the river.' Here were guitered in one group wondy-six of the graduating class of the collete, and at a stort distance in the rear another similer group of sixteen expert; these being o'llividedine's, two-companies of whom are constantly stationed at West Point. A small pile of timber, having much the appearance of rators, lay upon the ground beside them, while non two were a larger collection of planks. An abundant projected from the shore. This monosure which the cadets were about to execute, was the construction of a portion of a tressel bridge state the Austrian model.

They were commanded on this occasion by Lieuts. A. J. Donelson and T. I. Caser, who directed their movements. This kiml of military bindge can only be used in shallow water, or where the depth does not exceed fifteen test.—In throwing it across larger streams, pontoons or boats must be used after that depth has been reached, in which case not more than one than of the bridge rests on tressels. The cadets and sappers, at the word of command, want rapudit to work, and in screenter minutes they had put thing there a bridge that extended one hundred and fifty feet out into the river, and capable of bearing any neight that it would be necessary to carry in the train of an army.

The tressels were placed in the water, resting upon the bottom of the liver, and capable of bearing any neight that it would be necessary to carry in the train of an army.

The tressels were laid live "halks," or beams, for supporting the flooring, then followed a number of cadets carrying the "cheeses," or plunis, that constitute the latter. These are recursed by si

The official disputch concerning Mr. there was much alarm felt among mercantile classes lest the Government should be disposed to carry things to extremes, but we do not see any reason why the official dispatch should create more feeling than the fact known before.

A bill was passed for construction of a military road from Missouri via. Great Salt Luke City, to Carson Valley, a settlement on the frontier of California, and for the establishment of military posts and the sinking of wells.

In the House, Mr. Havens opposed the bill for the pacification of Kansas. He thought action thereon now would be premature. The House should first have the report of the select committee on Kansas affairs in order to determine the source of the present disorders in that Terri tory. He would favor no extreme measure; he wanted to meet the question on the broad basis of fact, governing his conduct without reference to either North or South. Mr. Grow gave notice that he would on Saturday move the previous question on the bill. Mr. Morrill, from Committee on Territories reported a bill to punish and prevent the practice of polygamy in the Territories of the U.S. providing a penalty of $500, and imprisonment for not less than two nor more than five years. -Mr. M., said there was but one dissenting vote in the committee, and the only difficulty to the power to legislate on the subject. GERMAN REPUBLICAN PAPER AT SHEBOYGAN. We are pleased to learn that Mr. GLAYZ, who spoke so eloquently to his countrymen on Thursday evening, in Markot Square, is about to start a German Republican paper at Sheboygan. He has followed the lead of the sham-democracy till he can do it no longer. His rebuke the other evening of the little knot of office-holders and their friends who were engaged in groaning on the west side of the Square, gave them an idea that they may grown with better reason and mor-

So the coalition between the Puntan at Blackleg is completed for the present, as far as their candidate for the Presidency is concerned. The above is from the Oshkash Courier, democratic, in allusion to Mr. Fremont's nomination. It comes with a sort of fitness from an organ of James Buchanau, the originator of the calumny against Henry Clay, whose acceptance of office under J. Q. Adams was characterized in the purty slang of the day, in precisely the phrase used by the Courier.

The Acherusian Lake of Thebes-Funerals of the Theban Kings-The Temple of Meedenet Habou-The Coluxs of the Plain-The Mem-nonium-Description of the Temple at Kar-nak-A Vices by Moonlight-Adieu to Upper

GIROEH, March 10, 1856. As we descended into the plain of Thubes we aw in the distance a circular piece of depressed land, surrounded with mounds, containing about five hundred acres. This is supposed to have once been a lake, answering to the Acherusian lake of the Greeks, over which the dead were carried previous to interment. The Mythological history of the death and passage of the souls of the dead which were lost and saved, found in the writings of the Greek and Roman poets, no doubt | would be covered with blessings and benefits; had their origin from Egyptian traditions. There and that, as the average of wages at that day are a few tombs on the Southern shore, and the land in that vicinity is found baving many human which ascribes to Mr. Buchanan a willingness bones, both buried and unburied, in and upon it. from which it is inferred that those who were rejected as unworthy of mansions among the bles sed, were ferried across to this place, and either buried or left unburied, which, with the ancients of all nations, has ever been regarded with more horror and fear than any punishment that could be inflicted in life on the body. From the paintings on the tombs, the passage over the lake on the occution of the funerals of the kings and priests, as well as the nobility, and also from the shore of the lake to their final rabbit of stem to aft side of forward stern post, resting places, these splendid sepulchres wrought out from the solid rock, no doubt then radiant with light from thousands of lamps, must have been solemn and inspiring. Even as late as the reign of Cleopatra, when the glory of Thebes, Philac, Heliopolis and Memphis and passed away, Crampton's dismissal had reached England, and we read of the magnificence of her court, her palaces and her barges. If her personal charms, and the gorgeousness of her retinue, could turn the heads of such mon as Antony and Caesar, how much more magnificent would be the pageantry and display of the funeral cortege of the Theban Lings, whose conquests had gathered to them almost the entire wealth of the then known world. It is easy to imagine how these appeared—the long line of priests in flowing robes-the sarcomoved to-day in the House of Representatives on | phagus containing the corpse—the mourners following, rending the air with their lamentations as of old-the passing across the sacred lake in the consecrated boat, decorated with all the insignia of mourning-the arrival at the tembs, where, descending and ascending through many passages and rooms, the one is reached in which the deceased is to be left in a standing position, in the language of the bible having been "gathered to the sepulchie of his fathers"-the exerifices of the priests-and the solumn fast and nourning of seventy-two days that followed! The temple of Meedenet Habou consists of a large pile of massive buildings that tower up into the air, something like those at Philae, which I have heretofore described. The unin building is the colossal temple and palace of Ramesis III, built by himself, although some of the other portions were finished by the other kings many years previously. This king reigned about 1895 years previous to the Christian eta. As in the temple of Isis, there are large gatherings stanked by what are called propylae, which are lofty bat-tlemented walls, covered with hieroglyphicslarge courts and halls conducting into them adorned with rows of marble columns of immense size, and wide cornices, on which are carved and frequently painted representations of various epochs in the history and life of the king. On one side of one of these courts is represented the king as borne in royal State, accompanied by his children, pricets and attendants, to officiate before the statutes of the Theban gods-on another side he has just returned from a victorious war, sitting in his chariot, before which appear captive kings with their hands tied behind them, and his scribes give him the number of hands of the enemy, which lie in a heap near him. The full details of these Asiatic victories are recorded in hieroglyphical tablets on each side. In other parts there are battles fought, both by sea and land, in which the monarch is seen conspicuously sometimes in a charlot directing, and at others comes off victorious. On ascending one of the stairways I passed through several rooms which, although small, of Congress from Virginia, died on Monday at were the ones occupied by the King and the members of his family, from the sculptures on the Dates from San Francisco to June 5th have | walls. Those represented domestic scenes, such been received. Carey and Cora, the gamblers as the King seated with his harem, some of whom and nurderers, were hing on the 28d May, the offer him flowers, and others dance and sing for his atmusement. Yankee his amusement. At another place he is engaged chess, and seems to be deeply interested in it The Copt Christians, thinking undoubtedly they were doing God service, have mutilated and in jured many of the figures upon the walls all through Egypt, and particularly here. This must have been a few hundred years ago. They often battered down some of the finest columns in order to make room to build miserable brick ment throughout the State, and word was sent huts in the temples, and defaced the figures upon from the interior that thousands were ready to the walls by covering them with mud. In many rases, however, it has proved a benefit instead march to the assistance of the Vigilance Comof destruction, as was expected whon they were plastered over. A few rods to the north are what is called the Colossi of the Plain, being two sitting colossal Committee were determined to carry out their statues of great size, facing the east and looking towards the Nile and Thebes that once was .-With the pedestals on which they are sitting, arms. It was rumored they intended to attack these statues are each sixty feet high, and it is easy for the imagination to conceive how they must have appeared in an erect position. But there they sit with their countenances blackened by time ! They have seen Thebes rise and full, and most of the other great cities of the earth do the same within the last three thousand years. In all the desolation that reigns around this desolute place, there is nothing that throws so deep and lengthened shadows over the mind as to reflect upon the changes in the world since they have been seated there, as it were silent spectators of the world and its events. These statues were built by one of the Pharaohs, called Ammnoph, about 1550 years previous to the Christian ers, and some time before the birth of

> One of these statues is called the Vocal Men on, and according to poetic tradition, possessed the extraordinary power of issuing from its lips beautiful music the moment the rays of the sun first darted over the plain in the morning above the Arabian hills. It is asserted as a historical fact that it song twice on a visit of Hadrian, one of the Roman emperors. The probability is that it was connected with some building near it, long since destroyed, through which a priest entered nto the statue, for it is known that the priests had great influence over the minds of the people, which were imbued at that time with superstition and ignorance. Upon the back and feet are rieroglyphics as ancient as the statues themselves.

> rom appearances they were overthrown by Cambyses, and afterwards again set up. From these two statues was a broad avenu bout one hundred rods in length, lined with sphynxes, leading to the ruins of the Membonion, or palace, or temple of Rameses the Great. This far excels in architectural design and beauty those of Medeenet Habou. The large gateways and immense propylac are covered with sculptures, surrounding an luner court of great size, the front columns of which are in the form of statues of kings and gods. In the centre of one of these courts stood the colossal statue of the great king and conqueror, made of syenite grandte. He was represented sitting on his throne in repose, with his hands on his knees, an attitude great size, for its weight is estimated at 657 tons, and was the largest in Egypt, and probably in the world. The head, neck, and some part of the shoulders are nearly entire, and some idea of its size may be inferred from their dimensions. It measures twenty-two feet and four inches across the shoulders, and fourteen feet and four inches from the neck to the elbow.

There was a time when we believed him to be a genuine De-moerat of the Jeffersonian school, a friend to humanity and an uncompromising defender of the constitutional rights of the American people.

But we have presented to as not simply James achanan, as of old. He tells us (see his speec to the Keystone Child) that now he is tongue tied, having been placed upon a platform of which he most heartify and conductly approace—that he is not simply James Buchman, and must square his conduct according to that platform, neither inserting nor taking a single plank from it. To that platform, in common with many good democrats, whose sense of manly independence will not pernit them to be tonguectied by the encrochment of either party or sectional Slavery, we cannot subscribe; its principles we never endorsed, much less could we do so now; and as the nominee on that platform buddly avows himself no longer simply James Buthanan, but part and parcel of a platform of principles which would be spit upon by Jefferson, Madison, Randolph, and the Republican Democrats of this representation, were they now living, we would be recreated by the Republican Convention at the metal to the the party of Southern men come up from Westport to settle on their claims at Hickory Point, where they had laid out a town.

Washtsoton, June 13.

My Dear Sir:—The papers speak of a token planned by you, in approbation of my recent speech, exposing the crime against Kansas. Pardon me, if, in advance of any direct information, I say to you frankly, that I cannot allow this flattering project to proceed further.

It is enough for me that you and your generous associates approve what I said. Such sympathy and support in the cause of which I am an hunble representative, is all that I ask for mystil or am willing to accept. But the cause it, self has constant claims on us all. And I trust not to seem too bold if I express a desire that the contributions intended for the testimonial to Washington, June 13, the contributions intended for the testimonial to ne may be applied, at once and without abate-nent of any kind, to the recovery and security of freedom in Kansas.

It was for this that I spoke in the Senate, and shall be proud to regard these contributions, thus applied, as my words hardened into deeds.

Believe me, my dear sir, with much regard, Very faithfully yours, CHARLES SUMNER.

QUARTER-MASTER-GENERAL,-MI. H. C. BOLI, the newly appointed Quarter Master General at Madison, is receiving numerous congratulations on his appointment. The Madison Argue, says Gen. Bull is among our most respected citi-ens, is a highly successful business man, and esecined in all relations.

And the Janesville Standard says: And the Janesville Standard Mys;
We learn that Gov. Bashford has complimented our late worthy and gentlemanly fellow citizen, Mr. H. C. Bull—now of Madison—by giving him the commission of Quarter Master General. It is a good appointment and will meet with universal approbation wherever he is known.—General, we tender you our congratulations.

THE CROPS .- We are glad to see the follow ing, from the Watertown Democrat : All of our groat staples—wheat, rye, cats, corn-barley—promise well. The signs are everywhere favorable for large yields. The stalks have grown tavorable for large yields. The same interpretation up attong and vigorous, the heads are heavy and healthy, the berry full and plump. We have seen many spleudid fields of winter-sown grain in this vicinity, that reminded us of the famous "Genesco country," when that valley was distinguished for producing the best crops of wheat in the world.

THE SESPECTED MAN.—Mr. John McEvoy, enspected of the murder of Mr. Appliebe, arrived in this city yeaterday in custody of a Sheriil's of ficer. He is fully confident of being able to estab lish his innocence of the charge made against him. -Chicago Dem.

NEW CARS.—The Chicago, St. Paul and Fond du Luc Railroad Co. have added two new and meat passenger cars to the rolling stock of this end of the road. Travel and business is rapidly increasing.—Fond du Lac Union.

Stillwater Lind Office.—It seems that imningrants and speculators are determined to enter up all the government land in the St. Croix valley as soon as possible. Since the close of the Hudson Land Office at Stillwater persons having business with the Land office at Stillwater

LAWRENCE, K. T., June 17.

There is a report that Col. Summor's command met one branch of the Border Ruflan army yesterday, numbering near two hundred, and drove it back into Missouri.

A couple of gentleman from Wisconsin, on a rour of observation in the south part of the Territory, were set upon last Saturday by six Border Ruflians, who demanded of the former their arms. Having nice double barreled rifles, they did not feel willing to part with them so unceremoniously, so concluded to adopt Gov. Robinsonson's plan, and give them their contents. This they did, killing two of their antagonists and wounding the balance so they were unable to proceed. Our Wisconsin triends were about roady to take their departure, when they observed six others coming down upon them, all mounted. A vigorous fire commenced and was kept ed. A rigorous fire commenced and was kept up until the whole party was either killed or left wounded on the field. The story seems axaggerated, but you have it as it reached us, very well authenticated.

The outrages committed on travellers at West-port and vicinity beggar description. They are not only robbed and maltreated, and shot down on the way side, but it is asserted as a positive fact that persons have been lung to the branches of trees, and that five bodies remain daugling from tree tops, where they have remained for several days. Yours truly, Kansas.

From the Fond du Lac Freeman. Our Candidate for President. John C. Fremont has seen the withering curse of slavery all his life, and felt, no doubt, its crushing influence laid on his own aspirations, and he went in for the Freedom of California, and by the aid of others secured it. He was elected its first U. S. Senator, and because the State he reresented was wrongfully decied admission what she applied, he never occupied a seat in the Senate but one short term, and the pro-slavery spirit gained such ascendency as to defeat hi re-election. He was defeated because he was not a good tool of the Hunker Democracy. It is immensely to his credit, and gives a good indication of the heart that is in him, to find him cut loose by his own previous deeds, and of his own free will from the class of despots with which he has been surrounded all his life. Men of his brain, in the South, have generally bent before the influences of despotism, and yielded it housage to gain office and renown. But he has kept fee from its sorcery, and even linked his tor-tunes with a cause, that is despised and maligu-ed above all others by slaveholding confeder-acies. It is most that such men should be sought out, and as they are found to be representative I the principles of Freedom placed in stations of influence and power.

For the sake then of a cause we hold above all personal predilection, or private desires, we mise the binuer of Freedom with "Fremont and Victhe bander of recession with "remont and vic-tory" inscribed upon 1, and if we do not, if Heaven spares our life, take delight in chron-icling the triumph of Freedom's cause, it shall be lack of earnest toil that we shall cheerfully lay upon the bright alter of Liberty in the coming campaign.

CRAZY WOMAN .- On day before yesterday, a Chart Wouns.—On day before vesterday, a Mrs. Carrier, who formerly lived in Illinois, about two miles below Beloit, was taken to the Poor House of this county. She has been residing recently at Lisbon, in Adams county, and is supposed to be insune upon the subject of Spiritualism. On Tuesday night she bloke from her room, and walked bare-headed and bare-footed to this City, with her child in her arms. She was found wandering through the streets on the west side of the river, about its o'clock in the morning and was brought to the American Hotel. SUPREME COURT IN PERMSYLVANIA.-Recently, in Pennsylvania, there was a dispute between two persons, each claiming to exercise the office of Major-General. The dispute was settled by a suit at quo warranto, in which the State Sureme Court decided in favor of one of the parties. The other, however, a Mr. Small, refused to obey, and continued to exercise the rights of office. For this contumacy he has been committed to prison. In relation to the case the Pittsburg Despatch Says: Pittsburg Despared says:

In committing Major Gen. Small to prison for contempt of court until he takes his oath to obey its mandate to abstain from exercising an office they have decided he has no right to, Justice

Lowrie, after speaking of the writ of quo war-ranto, issued by the court, says:

Before that highest eveil tribunal and in that Before that highest eveil tribunal and in that highest civil process for such a case, it was decided that the defendant's commission was void, and he was commanded to abstain from all further intermedding with the office. If that decision is not to be obeyed, then the State is helpless against military usurpation. Her highest tribunal for the "management of such affairs has appear and is discrepted." nal for the management of such affairs has spoken and is disregarded. The means of order which she has provided are exhausted. The force that is organized for her defence has turned its arms against her; it has cust away the subordination which the people have required, and has declared its own judgment to be the highest rule of right. The military officers, who are recognized by the civil power, are excluded from their position by those who reject the judgment of the civil power, and who are drowned by it.

We cannot doubt about the correctness of our decision against the defendant's claim to the office of brigadier general, even after now hearing him

A company of seventy-five or eighty men from Chicago, who recently left Alton for Kansas on the steamer Folar Star, had their Sharp's files and revolvers taken from them at Lexington Mo. been in one form of the declared invalid.

Assume that we were in fact mistaken in our judgment, still, having performed our duty to the best of our learning and ability, we have done all that the state requires of us in the case; and she can require no more so long as government is administered by human agency. Our decision must be the very law of this case; for the people baye required us to ascertain and declare it, and we have done so exactly as required, that is, ac-cording to the highest judicial skill that we pos-sess. He that resists our judgment denies the competuncy of the people to metitate government that can fulfill all its duties. Perfection of judgthat can faifill all its duties. Perfection of judgment is not the test of legitimacy of power, or of the duty of audmission to its decisions, for humanity can neither bear the test nor apply it. The decisions which we pronounce the law requires us to enforce, whether parties or their friends approve of them or not. This must be true if government is to be worth anything.

EXCITEMENT AT BEAVER DAM .- The Wincom en thus condenses along account from the Beaver Dam Sentinel of an occurrence which caused a great deal of excitement in that town a div or two since: Considerable excitement was created at Boaver Dain on Wednesday last, growing out of an attempt made by a man named Cady, from New Orleans, to arrest and convey to the latter place James B. Poabody of Fall River. An indictment had been obtained against Peabody by neans of which a requisition was procured from the Governor of Louisiana on the Governor of Wisconsin, for the arrest of Peubody, for swinding, by obtaining a barrel of whiskey by false pretence. Cady started for Wisconsin in May pretence. Cady started for Wisconsin in May, last, with a negro waiter, who, when, he got to Chicago, concluded to leave his master, and did so. During a trial on a wit of Inbeas corpus, before Judge Mertz, of Beaver Dan, Penbody, who, it seems, had the sympathies of the citizens, made his escape through the back door of the Court room, and coolly walked to the front of the Clark House, where he made a short address to a large growd and then went his own dress to a large crowd, and then went his own

Senate. The House bill establishing two additional land districts was passed. A message was received from the House announcing the death of Hon. Mr. Baily of Va. Mr. Mason spoke in high terms of the deceased and offered resolutions of respect and condolence. Mr. Caspaid a fitting tribute of respect. Mr. Seward said: In 1840, before I had personally met Thos. II. Builey and while he was yet young, I encountered him in a controversey, conducted by him in the Legisliture and myself as the executive magistrate of N. V. I felt his ability and power, while I was compelled to acknowledge his manliness and dignified bearing. In 1855 we not here, prepared I think by matual respect to be controons adversaries. We remained in that relation till last December when he departed with a forlorn hape to Cuba, deeply impressed that WASHINGTON, June 28. relation till last December when he departed with a forlorn hope to Cubn, deeply impressed that his disease had already become incurable, taking his thoughts from earth to fix them on a higher sphere, its mysteries and its promises. I then became his friend.

sphere, its mysteries and its promises. I then became his friend.

I would not intrude on the solemn offices now performed here with so much propricty and justice by his immediate associates, farther than to add the testimony of one whom the world regards as a stringer, and may possibly have considered an enemy to the deceased, to the truth of the highest praise which has been bestowed on this eminent Virginia statesman. He was a man of practical abilities, of genius, magnanimity. Let no one censure me for throwing a simple wild flower among the wreaths that gather on the bier that is passing before us, and opening our way towards that scene where we all are looking.

Mr. Mason's resolution was adopted. Adjourned till Monday. THREEP.M. REPORT. NEWS BY THE ASIA. Excitement with regard to Affalr, with this country. New York, June 27.

The steamer Asia arrived at 11 this A. M., with Liverpool dates to June 14th.

There is much excitement regarding American allairs.

The London Times and Morning Post demand in offensive terms the recall of Mr. Dallas; but it is not supposed in the country that he will be dismissed; meantime Liverpool and Manchester than the citizens of dismissed; meantime Liverpool and Manchester have issued a peace address to the citizens of America, and the feelings of the people seems more active and more general in tavor of peace—but the Government, however, talks hostile; Palmerston and Clarendon having stated in Parliament, on Friday evening, that they had not made up their minds whether Dallas would be dismissed or not.

Lord John Russell has given notice for special potices on Monday, to enquire what is the cial notices on Monday, to enquire what is the intention of the British Government, inasumeh as the universal feeling of the British people is intention of the British Government, imagameh as the universal feeling of the British people is in favor of Peace.

No other news of importance.

The Asia brings 90 passengers.

The Fulton with the news of Mr. Crampton's dismissal arrived at Southampton, A. M. 14th.—

The articles of the Times and Post on Mr. Crampton's dismissal were studiously offensive, and demand the dismissal of Mr. Dullas, and application of force to the United States. The commercial and manufacturing classes, however, are filled with anxiety at the terrible consequences of war with the U. S., and are moving actively to prevent the calamity. The Manchester peace address to the U. S. received $000 signatures in two hours. Meantime several ships of war had been telegraphed to prepare with all possible despatch for foreign service; destination supposed to be the coast of America. All the commanders of the line boats at Portsmouth lave likewise been called by Port Admirals, as it was rumored, to receive instructions for active service at telegraphe notice. The light squadron of dispatch steamers and gun boats under command of Com, Watson, arrived at Falmouth to coal and provision.

Com. Stockton's letter of acceptance says, "I will not let the Union slide, if my body can stop its motion." He adds: "I accept of the nomination as a compliment, and an inflexible American sentiment, and as a duty I owe to those American citizens who so firmly adhered to their American sentiments, with the express understanding, however, that if the American prry can be united on Mr. Fillmore, on such a platform as I now occurs. I may be at liberty at Washington, June 20.

The Intelligencer of this morning says it has been published in the N. Y. papers that Costa Rica had recognized the power of Walker, given up war, and offered to be responsible for all expenses growing out of it. We are assured by persons in this city who are well informed, that it is a sheer fabrication. On the contrary, we understand that Costa Rica has resolved to wager war to the last against the foreign invaders of Central America, and according to the very latest advices from that country, the army was ready for the field assoon as the concerted attree on Guatemala, San Salvador and Honduras might begin, which attack would close in a few days, the enreer of General Walker, whose forces days, the career of General Walker, whose forces it is stated, are perishing by scores from cholern, yellow fever, and other epidemic diseases.

The Courier and Enquirer's Washington correspondent of the 26th says the anti-Nebraska members have resolved to take a vote on the Kansas admission bill, on Satuday, and it was resolved to adjourn Congress sine die August 15th, if possible. The general impression is that an adjournment will be impracticable before September 15. The Kansas report will be printed next after the Brooks case.

Washington, 27, Washingeros, 27.

The Senate considered and passed the House bill authorising the President to cause the southern boundary of Kansas to be run and minked; also the bill asspecting the harboring of deserters, and to protect the public interest in regard to the calistment and discharge of minors. Mr. Mison of Vn., amounced the death of his colleagne, Mr. Wim, H. Baily, pronouncing a high enlogy upon his public and private character and offering the customary resolutions. Mr. Goode of Vn., and Cobb of Gn., and Campbell of Ohio, spoke in similar terms of their deceased friend. Resolutions adopted.

Governor Shannon, of Kansas, arrived here last night, and informed the Republican, through Mt. Barnum, that he has not resigned. He came to meet his wife, and will return to Kansas in the course of the week. He reports all quiet in the Territory. Letters in the kepublican from Westport, 2ith, says that a meeting was held at that place on Sunday last, denouncing the murder of Indian Agent Guy. A committee was appointed to address the Governor of Missouri acquainting him with the murder, and asking him to offer a reward for the apprehension of the murderers.— Thirty-five citizens of Westpert have mivenibed $750 in sums from $10 to $50 each as a reward for the apprehension and conviction of the as-
